Replacement Part Numbers or Alternative Solutions (if applicable):
SR9000 is a Rabbit 2000 microprocessor based scalable embedded control system that you can customize for real-time control and data acquisition application. The modular Smart Star System offers multiple options such as Ethernet connectivity, digital and anlolog I/O, etc. This is a very unique product with no direct replacement.

Please contact your Digi representative to discuss alternative solutions. There are several SBC options still available in the Rabbit product line, such as the BL4S1xx Series that may fit the customer needs.

Additional Comments:
We will accommodate any orders that we have inventory of product. Orders must be received prior to the Last time buy date to be considered. We will attempt to build for all orders, but due to part availability, we may not be able to honor all orders. Please get all last time buy needs in as soon as possible to ensure availability of product.

EOL Terms and Conditions:
- All LTB Purchase Orders and non-cancelable and non-returnable (NCNR)
- Standard warranty policy will apply
